IMPERIAL ORDER OF DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

In spite of the very bad weather on Friday, the 11th, quite a number of ladies came out to the City Hall to hear Mrs. Spence, the Hon. Organizing Secretary for Southern Alberta, speak in the interests of the above-mentioned society. They were well rewarded, and some who had no idea of joining were so enthused by Mrs. Spence's earnest address that they were eager to do so.

At the conclusion of the address, which is partially given below, it was unanimously decided to form a chapter, to be called the Sir John Jellison Chapter, unless the name has already been spoken for by a chapter elsewhere.

The election of officers then took place as follows:
Hon. Regent—Mrs. E. Michener.
Regent—Mrs. George W. Greene.
1st Vice Regent—Mrs. H. George.
2nd Vice Regent—Mrs. A. T. Stephenson.

Secretary—Mrs. Hacking.
Treasurer—Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson.
Standard Bearer—Mrs. E. Lord.
Councillors—Mrs. S. N. Carscadden, Mrs. S. Taylor, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Rutherford, Miss E. Pidgeon.

The following is a part of Mrs. Spence's address:
The daughters of the Empire, founded in 1900 by Mrs. Clarke Murray, of Montreal, is the first woman's imperial and patriotic organization founded in the British Empire.

To Canada belongs the glory of instituting Empire Day (May 23rd) and of taking up patriotic work in the schools as children of the Empire. Allied with the daughters of the Empire is the Victoria League, England, founded in 1901, Navy League, England, founded in 1904, and Loyal Women of South Africa, founded in 1900. The Imperial order of the Daughters of the Empire was organized during the days of the South African war for the purpose of expressing the loyal sympathy of the women of the Colonies with her most beloved Majesty Queen Victoria in the deep anxiety and suffering she was enduring in those dark days. The Daughters of the Empire is non-political or non-party and undenominational—one flag, one throne, one Empire.

The Guild of Loyal Women of South Africa, which sprang into existence also in 1900, cared for the graves of the soldiers that fell in the Boer war. Hundreds of British and Canadian soldiers' graves would have remained unmarked but for the splendid efforts of these patriotic women.

Great Britain's colonies make up the greater part of the British Empire, and the largest colony is Canada, which is one-third of the British Empire. The greatness of the self-governing parts of the British Empire depends upon the part they play in forging the chain of steel around that Empire enveloped in love, sentiment, and a reverent respect for the ideals, the heroic deeds, the glorious traditions of the Motherland, of Great Britain, the hub of the Empire. It is for that that we are banded together as Daughters of the Empire, for in the hands of the women principally lies the instruction of the children in

General Joffre Tells of Successes of the Allies

BORDEAUX, Sept. 13, (4.30 p.m.)—General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French forces, has sent a telegram to M. Millerand, minister of war, saying:

"Our victory appears more and more complete. Everywhere the enemy is in retreat, abandoning prisoners, wounded and stores. The enemy has left on the battlefield many wounded and quantities of munitions of war; also in gaining ground, we have made many prisoners."

"Our troops show evidence of the intensity of the struggle and the extraordinary efforts made by the Germans in their attempts to resist our vehemence."

"Our vigorous re-taking of the offensive has determined the success. Every officer, subaltern and soldier has responded to the call. All merit well from the fatherland."

In another communication made public this afternoon, General Joffre says:

"The battle of the last five days has ended in an undeniable victory. The retreat of the first, second and third German armies is hastening before our left and our centre in turn."

"The fourth German army is commencing to fall back to the north from Vitry-Le-Francois and from Sermaz-Lez-Bains (in the province of Marne, 17 miles east of Vitry-Le-Francois)."

DEFEAT OF ARMY OF AUSTRIA WAS OVERWHELMING

Petrograd Reports Say 180,000 Prisoners Were Captured Besides Many Supplies.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch to the Central News from Rome says telegraphic advices received there from Petrograd to the effect that the seventeen days battle of the Russians against the Austro-German forces ended with the following result:

"Prisoners taken, 180,000; field guns captured, 450; fortress artillery captured, 1,000 pieces; transport wagons taken, 4,000; and aeroplanes captured, 7."

The Russian embassy in Rome, according to the report of the Central News, says that the German army commanded by General Von Hindenburg has been defeated near Mlawka, Russian Poland, with a loss of 50,000 men. The ambassador adds that the Russians have assumed the offensive in Prussia and have commenced to lay siege to Konigsberg.

Great Disaster Has Overtaken Us, Says a German General

Enemy is Fairly on the Run, Writes the Daily Telegraph Correspondent—Retreated By Roads Along Which They Marched in Triumph a Week or Two Ago—Germans Are Surrendering in Large Bodies.

London, Sept. 12.—In a despatch dated in France, September 9, the Daily Telegraph's correspondent begins the following description of the German retreat.

At last they are fairly on the run, utterly routed at the centre, defeated and demoralized on both flanks. A great coup has fallen. There will be no siege of Paris. The government can return at once. Tomorrow the enemy will be many miles from the capital and their only anxiety will be to increase the distance between themselves and their pursuers.

They are retreating by the roads along which they marched in triumph a week or two ago. The remnants of their cavalry has been destroyed. They have lost guns and ammunition. They are surrendering in large bodies. "Two trainloads of prisoners left this morning. We are badly in need of horses and supplies. The wireless message was intercepted on its way to Berlin. They will want more than horses to carry them safely across the frontier. "It will be a miracle if any of them get home again," said an officer of the flying corps, as I passed him in the road last night. I tried to sleep in a bed that a German general had slept in 24-hours before. His last words to his officers as he hurried away were: "A great disaster has overtaken us." The good dame who keeps the hotel in which was the headquarters of the German cavalry from Saturday to Monday understands German, but she was careful to conceal the fact from her unwelcome guests.

Services Being Inaugurated on C.P.R. Branches

The Retlaw and Coronation-Kerrobert Lines are Ready for Immediate Use.

Within the next few weeks train services will be inaugurated by the C.P.R. on the Retlaw extension and the Coronation to Kerrobert branch. Both these new lines have been completed, and the officials are only waiting until the winter schedule is made out to establish the new train services. Daily train services will probably be arranged for both branches, although the exact details have not been worked out as yet.

The Bassano-Empress branch, which is one of the most important lines now being constructed in the west, will be completed before freeze-up. In fact the steel has already been laid, and the construction gang are now ballasting the road and putting it in first-class condition. This line will be part of the double-tracking scheme, which the company is now working on, and consequently exceptionally heavy steel has been laid.

When the Bassano-Empress line is finished, the C.P.R. will have completed its programme of construction work in Alberta for the year 1914. With the exception of the Lehigh-Wyburn branch, which the company does not intend to complete until possibly the end of 1915, steel has been laid on all the new cut-offs and branch lines in the Alberta division.

Penhold

The ladies of Penhold have organized a war fund. The following ladies have been elected as collectors for the fund: Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Hopkins, Horn Hill; Miss Kitty Hives, Fairlands; Mrs. Tom Lee, Andler Hill; Mrs. A. Walker and Mrs. T. Stewart, town.

Contributions will be thankfully received by the committee. A public meeting will be held at Mrs. T. Stewart's, Thursday, Sept. 17th, at 2 p.m., to make arrangements for sewing for the fund. All are invited to attend.

Hill End News

Crops are nearly all harvested. Anyone wishing to get seed grain would do well to visit Hill End before buying elsewhere.

Miss Blanche Healy visited her brother last week. Mr. Denmore took the service Sunday. J. Donaldson and A. Richard have gone looking up homesteads.

Mr. Randall has purchased a new hay baler and expects to start work in a fortnight. Mr. Randall has recovered from his sickness and is now home again at his son-in-law's, E. Allen.

FRENCH CALLING MORE RECRUITS TO THE COLORS

BORDEAUX, Sept. 9.—President Poincaré has signed a decree calling all Frenchmen, previously exempted from military service on the ground of defective health, to undergo a further medical examination. Those found fit will at once be drafted into the army.

Patriotic Meeting

A largely attended meeting of citizens to discuss patriotic questions, and to receive the report of the committee appointed to get information, was held in the city hall on Monday afternoon, and presided over by Mayor Carscadden.

The Mayor in his opening remarks pointed out the object of the meeting, and who had been asked to attend as representatives of different bodies.

Secretary Mann then read the correspondence received in answer to enquiries made by the committee, which included a long letter from Mr. Ames, of Montreal, the general secretary of the Dominion Patriotic Fund, full of instructions and suggestions, which showed that the many needs which such a fund would be able to assist, and were trying to arrange for it to be run on the broadest principles possible.

The meeting was fully alive to the points affecting us as a local body, and a keen discussion took place as to the advisability of having a local fund for local cases, or joining the National Fund.

Expressions of opinion were given by Mayor Carscadden, E. E. Michener, M.P.P., R. D. Welliver, H. H. Gatz, J. F. Boyce, G. W. Smith, E. G. Johns, W. J. Botterill, Dr. Collier, Mr. Wilson, J. E. Cunningham, W. Galbraith, John McLeannan, G. W. McKenzie, G. W. Greene and others.

While it was thought by some that we should not tie ourselves to conditions that might eventually prove irksome, the general feeling was that by joining hands with the National Patriotic Fund we would have more chance of working on a broader basis, as the objects and aims were to take in all the dependants of those at the front, irrespective of nationality, outside of Germany had Austria-Hungary.

The following motion was then moved by E. Michener, M.P.P., and R. D. Welliver: That we proceed to organize a local branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. Carried unanimously.

Mayor Carscadden named a committee of five to nominate officers and executive, who met and brought in the following names, which were acceptable to the meeting, and the report was adopted:

President—E. Michener.
1st Vice—R. D. Welliver.
2nd Vice—Mrs. Lees.
2nd Vice—Father Velsin.
Secretary—James Mann.
Treasurer—J. F. Hacking.
Executive—Mayor Carscadden, H. H. Gatz, Dr. Collier, Dr. Wilson, J. F. Day, Mrs. G. W. Greene, Mrs. Tallman, Mrs. Welliver, A. R. Gibson, W. Piper.

The committee arranged to hold their first meeting last night. R. B. BENNETT OFFERS TO ADDRESS PATRIOTIC MEETING.

R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, in a communication to Secretary Mann, offered his services in addressing a public meeting on behalf of the fund or in any other way he could help. The matter was put to the meeting, and the offer of Mr. Bennett was accepted, he to fix a date. Dr. Clarke will also be asked to address the meeting, which will likely be held during the next few days, and should be well attended.

THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

Ada Wallace Urrau, national lecturer Women's Christian Temperance Union, will deliver an address to the people of Red Deer on Wednesday evening, September 23rd, in the Baptist Church at 8 o'clock. The subject will be the abolition of the white slave traffic, and should be well attended by all. Ada will be in charge, and as the speaker is brilliant and entertaining lecturer, there will be no doubt be a large crowd to hear her.

Tuesday Afternoon Dispatches

"Army under General Von Kluk reported to have surrendered. It is stated 25,000 men and large quantities of guns and war material taken."

"Aviators report the German army in panicky flight, discarding weapons and equipment en route."

"German official bureau admits German cruiser Helbig destroyed by torpedo from hostile vessel."

"Scotsman," Edinburgh, reports German submarine which sank "Pathfinder" was sighted by British and destroyed."

"Russians in Eastern Austria continue smashing successes. Now trying to bottle German and Austrian army inside Przemyśl."

"Austrians driven back with great loss by Serbians on frontier."

"Belgians inflict sharp reverse on Germans near Brussels."

"Berlin messages now admit chief Austrian army has suffered absolute defeat."

"Terrible anarchy is reported from Vienna, Austrian capital, and revolution is feared."

GHENT, Sept. 14.—On every side the retreating Germans are being sorely pressed. The British are driving the routed right wing everywhere before it, and are inflicting upon it terrible losses. Each mile of its retreat is marked by wounded, dead, and abandoned artillery and baggage wagons.

The invading army seems to have met its Moscow, and Waterloo cannot be long delayed. The German right has been shattered to atoms. It is simply a fugitive mob which flies night and day hoping to escape or shake off its pursuers.

The vanguard of the fleeing Teutonic has now recrossed the Belgian frontier. It is composed of the proud formidable host which a short fortnight ago at Mons and everywhere swept from its conquering path the thin British line which barred its route toward the French capital.

GERMANS IN DANGER

Owing to the recrudescence of the Belgian activities the position of the slender garrison holding Brussels has become one of extreme peril. Important Belgian forces appeared north and east of Brussels after the burning of Tervuren. The modern Huns of the German Kaiser retreated upon Alost, which commands the road northward of Brussels. Their occupation of this town is now seriously menaced by the powerful Belgian concentration in the neighborhood.

It is quite possible that the enemy will shortly find Brussels untenable and be compelled to evacuate the capital. The capital is now garrisoned chiefly by sailors and marines from the immobilized German fleet.

The sailors took part in the four days' fighting northwest of Brussels, and they suffered severely in attempting to repel the Belgian attack.

Boast by vigorous armies on all sides, the German grip on Belgian territory must soon be broken.

New Rector of St. Luke's

The new rector of St. Luke's Church, Rev. W. H. Fanning Harris, of Stettin, was formally inducted by the Rev. Archdeacon Dewdney on Sunday evening last, and the keys of the church were handed over to him by the people's warden, Mr. Edwards.

The following motion was then moved by E. Michener, M.P.P., and R. D. Welliver: That we proceed to organize a local branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. Carried unanimously.

Mayor Carscadden named a committee of five to nominate officers and executive, who met and brought in the following names, which were acceptable to the meeting, and the report was adopted:

President—E. Michener.
1st Vice—R. D. Welliver.
2nd Vice—Mrs. Lees.
2nd Vice—Father Velsin.
Secretary—James Mann.
Treasurer—J. F. Hacking.
Executive—Mayor Carscadden, H. H. Gatz, Dr. Collier, Dr. Wilson, J. F. Day, Mrs. G. W. Greene, Mrs. Tallman, Mrs. Welliver, A. R. Gibson, W. Piper.

The committee arranged to hold their first meeting last night. R. B. BENNETT OFFERS TO ADDRESS PATRIOTIC MEETING. R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, in a communication to Secretary Mann, offered his services in addressing a public meeting on behalf of the fund or in any other way he could help. Dr. Clarke will also be asked to address the meeting, which will likely be held during the next few days, and should be well attended.

Red Deer Volunteers in Camp

Colin Broughton, writing to his parents in Red Deer, from Valcartier Camp, states that the men rise at 5.30 a.m., and have physical drill from 6 to 7. Breakfast 7 to 8. Parade 8 to 11.30. Dinner 11.30 a.m. to 1.30 p.m. Parade 1.30 to 5.30. Supper 5.30 to 6.30, after which their time is their own. Other work, however, has to be done, such as cleaning up tents, etc. The men's kit consists of cap, tunic, 3 shirts, 2 suits Standfield's underwear, 2 towels, pair of work pants, razor, toothbrush, pair of work pants, razor, "Made in Germany," and a pair of good tan boots. There are about 3,000 men in camp, and a review before the Duke of Connaught, and Col. S. Hughes took place recently.

Roy Alcock, writing to W. J. Stephenson, says that the Red Deer contingent are holding together with the exception of eight who joined the Royal Canadian Dragoons. They are served with cavalry uniform and will probably get horses later on, as all of them passed the riding test. They expect to leave camp shortly for the Curragh, Ireland, and have no doubt but that they will go with the first contingent.

Their fighting strength has been made up to 110 by the addition of some men from Swift Current. They are well furnished with water and rations, and the sanitary conditions are good, but there has been considerable sickness in camp owing to wet weather.

Sergeant G. L. Blake, son of ex-reverend George Blake, Hill End, writes his father that he retains his rank of Sergeant in the troops at Valcartier. He sent his father a memento of the camp. He reports the troops in great spirits and anxious to get to the front.

THE KAISER'S WAR INSPIRATIONS.

Albert Ernest Stefford in "Crusade and Crambs" in the Toronto Sunday World has the following remarks on the Kaiser's war inspirations:

No doubt the Kaiser regards himself as the "Faithful and True," and captain of the hosts of the Lord, and there is no more reason why devout Germans should not consider themselves the elect of heaven and the lost ten tribes, than the British, or the Americans. All these delusions are the result of imperfect education, incomplete knowledge, and the dogmatic tendency of small minds, as limited. We all forget, and constantly, that, as Walt Whitman said, "Anything is but a part." Most of us have the narrowest conceptions of time, and millions of good people still believe that the world was created 6,000 years ago, and is about ready to be wound up. The earth is one form or another has been in existence, according to eastern chronology for 320,000,000 years, and it still quite immature. It is not difficult to decide which of these views is more commensurate with the facts of infinity and eternity or more calculated to impress mankind with a sense of their wonderful destiny and spiritual potentialities. Gigantic as the present European struggle is, it is but a mere battle of kites and crows compared with some of the fierce struggles of ancient Lemuria and Atlantis. The tragic part of it is that Germany, so intellectual, so thoroughly well organized socially, so keen and competent in the arts and crafts, in science and commerce, should lend itself to be the agent of the destructive powers of nature. It is the same destructive force which proved a corrective in 1870 which, now gathered in volume, threatens to be a disorganizing agent. But life is eternally organic and what is torn down will be coordinated and built up. In the crucible of war the flux of the nations of Europe is brought nearer to a genuine international union or federation. Love and Union are Christ. Hatred and envious and jealous competition are anti-Christ.

GERMANS IN ENGLAND

The Westminster Gazette, London, England, contains the following letter:

"Sir—Very thankfully do I confirm the experience of 'S.E.' As a German teacher left penniless in London at the outbreak of the war, nothing has more touched my heart than the kindness of British families who have offered me an asylum and supplied me with financial assistance. My father is fighting in the cavalry, my uncle in the navy, two of my brothers in the artillery and engineers, any my mother is nurse in a military hospital. Yet I am treated in the home of an English baronet exactly as one of his own daughters and made to feel the greatness and the magnanimity of the character of the nation at war, all with us, yet not with our people, if a paradox in phrase may be permitted.

Yours gratefully,
"Anna Gemmerich.
"August 7, 1914."

CANADA'S CONTRIBUTIONS

Canada has voted fifty million dollars for war purposes. Nova Scotia's Government has granted 100,000 tons of coal; Quebec four million pounds of cheese; Ontario 250,000 sacks of flour; Alberta 500,000 bushels of oats; Prince Edward Island 100,000 bushels of oats; New Brunswick 100,000 bushels of potatoes; Saskatchewan 1,500 horses; British Columbia proportionately large shipment of canned salmon.

The other provinces will give of what they have. Wealthy men have put their hands deep into their pockets. Mr. J. K. L. Ross gives half a million dollars; Mr. John C. Eaton $100,000; The C.P.R. $100,000, and a ship for a floating hospital; and there are other gifts in which we do not remember the particulars.

No doubt Canada's contributions will be duly appreciated in the Old Country.

Australia and New Zealand are to the fore also. Even far off India offers men, and they are excellent fighting men. The native troops of India and Indian princes have offered three million dollars. The Irish Nationalists offer their volunteers for regular service. There is no record in the world of an Empire so loosely united politically, and at the same time so closely united sentimentally, as the British Empire.

"The growth of the lion," said a writer the other day, "has been shown by his cubs," but there is something stranger than that in the situation, for the echoes are coming from those who are none of his cubs; adopted cubs, stolen cubs, if you like, some of them cubs that are none of his blood, but they growl when the old lion growls, just the same.

RUSSIAN OPERATIONS IN THE EAST.

In order to understand thoroughly the real importance of the Russian victory over the Austrians before Lemberg, a glance at the map is necessary. Russian Poland extends into the German Empire in much the same way as Maine extends into Canada. Direct west of Russian Poland, which has Warsaw for its capital, is German Poland, with Posen as its chief city. A Russian army would find good roads and easy marching country between Warsaw and Posen. But such an advance, threatening Berlin, would not be possible without protecting its flanks. North of Warsaw and Russian Poland is East Prussia. Koenigsberg is a German stronghold and an army based on that city could harass and perhaps destroy any Russians based on Warsaw. On the south of Russian Poland is the west end of the Austrian province of Galicia. With Germany and Austria allied, Russian Poland was in the lion's mouth. Simultaneous advances from north and south converging towards Warsaw would have blocked the Russians and made invasion of Germany difficult if not impossible.

The Russian commander, therefore, looked first to his right flank. He entered East Prussia in force, beat the Germans at Gumbinnen, overran the country, swept the enemy out of the strongholds of the Lake District and laid siege to Koenigsberg. On the left flank Galicia was invaded. There was a long and tedious battle which ended in the total defeat of the Austrians and the fall of Lemberg. Galicia has between it and the rest of Austria the Carpathian Mountains. Some of the peaks of this range reach a height of 8,000 feet, and not more than four passes are practicable for military uses. Gaining Galicia was difficult for the Russians. Holding it should be an easy matter. With Galicia and East Prussia securely guarded no harm can come to an invading army tramping from Warsaw to Posen. Both flanks are safe and the line of communication is secure. The victories of Gumbinnen and Lemberg are of the most importance for they have stiffened the resolution of the Russian troops, destroyed the morale of the Austrians and separated Germany from its ally.

ECKVILLE

The ball game between Eckville and Leslieville, which was to have been played on Friday, the 11th inst., has been declared off, owing to it being found impossible to get the team together. The dance to be held on the same evening is also postponed.

Mr. Michener, M.P.P., stopped off at Eckville last week on his way to the Mountain House Fair. Mrs. A. Chavry, of Innisfail, and Mrs. Stanley Fawcett and baby, of Castor, were visiting with Mrs. Jack Clausen last week.

Mr. Boode and Mr. Neilson, of Lacombe, were recent visitors to town.

We are again agitating for telephone connection. Now that we have railway facilities, it is an absolute necessity that we should be connected up by telephone, if the town and surrounding district are to keep going ahead. If you are interested, and most everyone is, you should see the Secretary of The Eckville Improvement Co.

Threshing has commenced, and will be in full swing in another week, getting the biggest and best crop ever harvested in this district.

Mrs. Robinson, of Everts, was in town last week.

Mr. Brown, Presbyterian missionary, still holds service in Eckville every Sunday at 11.30.

Pine Lake News

Mrs. H. F. Lawrence arrived back safely from the Old Country and brought a governess with her. All are glad to see her back again.

The garden party held on Labor Day at Mrs. W. R. Chavry's, made over $80, in spite of the wet and cold day, which prevented a lot of people from coming.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Perry and daughter of Calgary, spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gibson. Mrs. Perry is a sister of Mr. Gibson.

The frost of one or two nights has caught the potato tops.

Some say the game guardians here are not doing their duty, and say, why are they so strict, if they would keep their noses to the grindstone and mind their own affairs it would be better.

It is reported that cattle are cheap down south and that yearlings can be bought for $10 a head, and sheep for $1 a head. Anybody having feed should get a carload.

The hall inspector is still in the district, looking up the crops hauled out on July 26, six weeks ago. This shows how much ground they have to go over. They are treating farmers fairly well according to their means.

A great many people here have been under the weather. La grippe seems to be the enemy, but Sunny Alberta is forgetting herself these last few days.

MARKETS

The Red Deer market of last week was a good one, and by 9.30 half of the stands had sold out, and the people gone home. A notable feature this week was the number of men who accompanied the ladies, and were noticed carrying away large parcels.

Among the number was a prominent Alderman of the city, who tried to look unconcerned when spoken to by the reporter.

There were a number of newcomers at the stands, including Mrs. Phillips and Mr. Neilson, of Crossroads, and J. H. Comfort. Mr. Besant was among the first to sell out. The farmers us that he has enough celery to supply the city for the next three months. Mr. Bjorkeland had some nice looking meat on sale. The vegetables all looked fresh and found a ready sale.

MONK'S PROPHECY WRITTEN IN 1800 IS REPUBLISHED

Brother Johannes Predicted
Destruction of Anti-Christ in Twentieth Century.

Paris, September 11. The Figaro, which is now issuing at Bordeaux, besides its usual four pages in Paris, on its first page publishes an extraordinary translation of a Latin prophecy alleged to have been written by a monk, Brother Johannes, in the year 1,600, describing the destruction of "Anti-Christ" in a great war. Following are some significant passages:

"The real Anti-Christ will be one of the monarchs of his time. A Pope of Luther will invoke God, proclaiming himself His envoy. He will have only one arm. His enemies, which will appear innumerable, will take for their device the words 'God with us' (the motto actually stamped on the German belts). He will long act by ruse and treachery and his spies will overrun the earth; but war will furnish the occasion for his throwing off his mask—a war easily recognized because in two kingdoms it will become universal, bringing into battle the most distant people. Armies will form at the four corners of the earth.

"MASSACRE WOMEN AND CHILDREN

"Anti-Christ will massacre priests, women and children and the aged. He will show no mercy, holding the torch like the barbarians but invoking Christ. There will be an eagle in his arms, also in those of his apostle, the other bad monarch, who, a Christian, was driven through the curse of 'Benedictus'.

"To conquer Anti-Christ more men must be killed than Rome held. It will require the effort of all kingdoms; This will happen twenty centuries after the incarnation of God's word.

"The 'prophecy' is contributed by a writer signing himself 'Bedeau', who, after showing its application to the present war, says that it is only the first part and that he will give the rest later. The Figaro makes no comment.

FARMER'S DUTY IS TO GROW MORE FOOD

Minister of Labor Says That is a Most Important Part in War.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, in discussing the war situation as regards food supply made a strong appeal this morning to the farmers of Canada to grow food.

"The farmer will play a most important part in this war," he said. "Food will be needed, wheat particularly. Raise pigs also. The patriotic farmer will be he who utilizes every acre he has."

"The farmer will also help to solve the unemployed problem. The farmer is the man the country is looking to. Get busy today. Work as you never worked. You are working for the Empire. You have a great duty to perform. Grow food. Remember that the boys at the front and those they have left behind will need it."

BELGIANS BEAT BACK GERMANS.

London, Sept. 10, 10.07 p.m.—An extended despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says:

"According to information from a reliable source, the Belgian army at Antwerp has assumed a triumphant offensive movement, driving the Germans back to the environs of Louvain."

FASHIONABLE WEDDING

Miss Olive J. Smith and Dr.
R. T. Washburn Married

The beautiful September wedding of Miss Olive Jefferson Smith, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Smith, and Dr. R. T. Washburn, of Bowden, took place in the Methodist Church, Thursday last, September 10th, at three o'clock.

The church was filled with a large gathering of guests and friends and acquaintances of the young couple, and Mr. Walton, the organist, delightfully relieved the pre-wedding moments by fitting organ music, the jubilant bridal chorus from Lohengrin sounding out at the entrance of the bride and bridegroom. The wedding march, Mendelssohn's Wedding March, accompanying the retirement of the bride from the church, the sweet girls also scattering silver horseshoes and flower petals in the path of the newly married pair. The guests were distinguished by bouquets of sweet peas, while the pews of the mothers of the bride and of the groom were marked by carnations. The decorations of the wedding arch were designed to produce a rainbow effect with green, asters, and sweet peas, the bell being covered with white daisies and sweet peas, the whole fastened with smilax. This beautiful rainbow effect was further carried out in the lovely gowns of the bride party, and a prettier group has never been seen in Red Deer, the dainty Juliet caps and veils giving unity to the party, while the various colors of the rainbow were shown in the dresses of the bridesmaids. The bride, one of the loveliest girls in Red Deer, deserved a lovely wedding, and that certainly was accomplished. She was attired in ivory dress with satin with rose-pink lace, Juliet cap, bridal veil, and orange blossoms, and carried bridal roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor, her cousin, Miss Sadie Smith, was gown in pink, carrying pink roses; Miss Mollie George, bridesmaid, in yellow, with yellow chrysanthemums; Miss Ina Greene, bridesmaid, in mauve, with mauve sweet peas to match. The pretty little flower girls, Flo Gaetz and Edna Carswell, who preceded the party, wore white princess gowns with blue sashes, and carried baskets of blue and white blooms. Dainty pendants and brooches, gave the groom's gifts to the bride and her attendants. The bride's mother, Mrs. J. M. Smith, was dressed in mauve poplin with mauve plush hat to match, while Mrs. Washburn, the groom's mother, wore black satin.

The groom was assisted by Dr. Wagner, of Innisfail. The bride's cousins—Mr. Charlie Smith, Mr. Percy Smith and Mr. Clare Smith—and Mr. J. C. Herriot, of Calgary, were ushers. Mr. G. W. Smith gave his niece away.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Gaetz Avenue South, which also bore floral garb for the occasion. The bridal party were supported by a mass of plants and flowers, which gave a pretty effect. Dr. and Mrs. Washburn received the congratulations and good wishes of the guests, who greatly admired the many delicious, and were most hospitably entertained. The tea table was adorned with a centre of real lace with chiffon and smilax streamers, which sheltered a beautiful bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Dr. Parsons, in black lace over white satin with hat to match, Mrs. W. A. Moore, in pink brocade, with pink and white hat to match, Mrs. R. L. Gaetz, in black satin, and Mrs. G. W. Greene, in golden brown silk with Florentine lace, dispensed the dainties. Mrs. H. L. Gaetz, in flame silk, Mrs. T. A. Gaetz, in black silk, Mrs. Lord, in pink silk with lace, and Mrs. Carswell, in black silk, were assisted by Miss Ebert, Miss Pearl Hall, and Miss Ina Quigg in waiting upon the guests. Mrs. McLeod, in black satin, in the bride's cake. Mrs. G. W. Smith, in black with touches of lace and gold, and Mrs. A. E. Keast in white mull, were assisted by little Ruth Lindsay, in white and blue, in ushering in the guests. Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Galbraith contributed the music.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily Chronicle's military correspondent says:

It depicts one of the hardest fought engagements in which the British army has ever taken part and it pays the right tribute to the officers and men and to the splendid services of the army corps commanders."

The Secretary stated this had been done last spring.

The Secretary-Treasurer of the town of Provost, Alta., wrote saying they had installed a fire brigade there, and asked for a copy of by-laws to assist them in forming by-laws for their own use.

Chief Meeres sent them the desired information.

Messrs. Cushing Bros. asked to have the assessment on lots 1 to 4, block 12, to be put on the same basis as the other lots in the block.

The matter was dealt with by the following motion: Moved by Aldermen Coote and Watson—That Sec. Treas. be authorized to rebate taxes on lots in block 12 which were not appealed at the Court of Revision to equalize them with other properties in the same block. Carried.

A letter was received from the Secretary of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, pointing out that the convention would be held at Camrose, September 15th and 16th, and asked that one or more permanent officers of the corporation be appointed as delegates.

Moved by Aldermen Botterill and Carwell—That the Mayor and Commissioner Stephenson be delegates to the municipal convention at Camrose on Sept. 15th and 16th. Carried.

Cases of destitution from the Village of North Red Deer have been reported to the office recently. As the persons are not residents of the City of Red Deer, we do not consider that City funds should be used for their relief. We would respectfully ask your instructions in dealing with these cases.

We recommend that the grant of $15.00 be made for the purchasing of an outfit for first aid for the Fire Brigade.

We recommend that we be authorized to have the wiring in the city offices placed on one meter.

We submit accounts for your authorization to pay. Regarding the water frontage tax in Calgary the following tax is levied: Where property pays water rates five cents per foot frontage is charged in addition to the water rates; where property does not pay water rates, 10 cents per foot. No rebate is allowed and corner lots pay frontage on both streets.

In Edmonton 10 cents per foot frontage is charged in addition to water rates on all property, and no rebate is allowed. We have had a reply from Camrose, but believe that the same rate as in Edmonton is charged.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FIRE CHIEF'S REPORT.

Fire Chief Meeres report for August was as follows: No fires and no false alarms during the month. Three regular practices were held, with an average of 16 firemen in attendance. Several practices for the Provincial Firemen's Tournament were also held. The fire alarm was tried out weekly and worked satisfactorily.

At the provincial tournament the local firemen were out in practically all the events, but the competitions were not so well filled as expected. The local brigade won the first aid competition, and he recommended that this branch be encouraged by the Council.

During the exhibition two firemen were stationed at the grounds, and extinguishers were distributed through the buildings and placed under the charge of Capt. Harvey. During the tournament I had four volunteers stationed at the fire hall. Weigh scales reported for the month were $13.90.

F. MEERES, Chief.

MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER.

The Medical Officer's report for August showed three persons suffering from typhoid fever, namely, A. Foster, T. Atkins, and C. Thompson.

POLICE REPORT.

Thirty-seven cases were brought before the Court during the month. Sixty had been arrested, but it was thought advisable to allow the other twenty-two to clear out of the city, which they did in every instance. Procuring liquor for interdicted person, one. Ignorance was pleaded and case was dismissed. Drunk while under interdiction, one. Drunk and incapable, 8. Cruelty to animals, 1. Prostitution, 3. Drunk and disorderly, 5. Theft, 2, one sent to jail for 3 months, one for 1 month. One prosecution under the licensing by-law. One raid made during month, the keeper of the house being arrested and prosecuted. One charge of keeping a bawdy house. The accused was sent for trial. The charges were changed to "procuring under the White Slave Act. Sentence of three years was passed. Thirteen cases of vagrancy. Summons served, three. Two horses impounded. Doors found open, nine. Are lights unlit, eleven. Number of persons given a bad, seventeen. Monies collected, $138.50. $85.00 was sent to the Attorney-General's department, we having prosecuted several cases under the provincial statute, also under the Liquor Ordinance.

We have to report for the first time that we have been unable to meet the repeated attempts at burglary and theft by persons or persons at the door of justice. The amount of goods lost and stolen during the month just finished is $138.50, of which we have recovered $85.00, leaving a balance of $53.50 worth of goods to be recovered. Four burglaries were committed.

C. ANDERSON, Chief of Police.

Mr. Gudmundson was present, and gave the Council required information on the question of a provision of a lane at the rear of lot 14, owned by Mrs. Good. Mrs. Gudmundson's explanation being satisfactory, the following motion was passed: Moved by Aldermen Lord and Coote—That this Council approve of request to register and in rear of Mrs. Good's residence. Carried.

NEW BUSINESS.

Alderman Coote asked if anything definite could be given the Council re. the assessment of the Stobart wholesale warehouse. The Commissioners' answer was in the negative. Alderman Coote then raised the question of the reduction of the salary of Mr. Mann. He thought it was too great reduction. The matter was discussed in a general way, but it was felt that others were affected in a like manner, and the subject dropped.

Alderman Lord wanted to know when the Commissioners were going to bring in a report on Gaetz Ave. North. He intended to ask the question until he got the required information. Alderman Watson said he understood the city owned land and city lots, and thought it would be a good scheme to have some of it broke up for planting with potatoes, etc. It would be a means of providing work for the unemployed. This was done in Calgary.

Mayor Carscallen said that that was a very good idea, and everything possible would be done.

Council adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Belgians Brought Down Dirigible

Amsterdam, Sept. 10.—A large German aeroplane has been shot at and brought down by the Belgians at Sleyten, East Flanders, the incident leading to important captures.

Three officers who were in the machine prove to be well-known experts from Krupp, including Jacob and Schelken, who delivered the guns to the new Belgian force a few months ago, and Vor Restzen, who was prominent in all the Krupp experiments. All of them were arrested.

HOW THE GERMAN SHIP MAINZ MET HER DOOM

Lyddite Shells, Put Into Her At Rate of 30 Per Minute, Made Siege of Her.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—How the German cruiser Mainz met her doom is told in a letter received from a member of the crew of the British light cruiser Southampton. The letter says:

"In the morning we had a brush with two German destroyers off Heligoland and we hit them twice before they disappeared in the mist. We turned back and were on our way at a good pace when we were recalled by wireless from another British ship saying she was in difficulty with a German cruiser.

"We immediately returned to the scene of operations. We found that the enemy was a three-funnelled cruiser somewhat larger than our ship. We opened fire at 13,000 yards and the enemy replied. Things began to look lively as we were putting shells into her at the rate of thirty a minute, each shell being a six-inch lyddite whose fumes killed everyone within 60 yards and set fire to everything nearby.

"Soon the Mainz was afire and the next shell went through two of her funnels and the main mast. What a sight she was! The fire rips made her funnels red-hot, with flames and smoke pouring out from all parts of the vessel. Her port side was like a sieve, every gun was smashed, the whole upper deck in chaos and the bridge a mass of tangled iron. We passed within 200 yards of her and three living human beings were visible on the decks of the cruiser. Many had jumped overboard and most of these we rescued, but the total list of saved was only 86 out of a crew of 500."

Belgian Refugees Are To Be Cared For In England

British Government Extends Invitation to All Made Homeless Through War to Come to England—Arrangements Are Made to Care For These Refugees—Temporary Depots Established.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Sixty thousand Belgian refugees are expected to arrive in England in the next ten days. The British Government extended today a general invitation to all Belgians made homeless through the war to come to England and the volunteer war refugees organized by the Duchess of Vendome has undertaken with government supervision, to care for these refugees.

Postmaster General Herbert L. Samuel, was loudly cheered in the house of commons when he referred to the fact that British refugees had been extended to the Belgians. He said that the committee was in touch with 3,600 Belgians now on the way to England, and that the number of homeless persons at Malines, Louvain, Liege and elsewhere in Belgium, who could not be cared for by their own government must seek temporary refuge in the British Isles.

Lord Hugh Cecil, chairman of the committee of the war refugees committee, and Lady Lugard, in active charge of the care of the fugitives, have already arranged for the organization of committees in 52 towns and cities, where the refugees will be sent from London. The committee will also care for the refugees from Russia, France and other allied countries.

Six temporary depots have been established in London, where over 3,000 Belgians will be sheltered and fed until they are placed in the homes of charitable English families. Homes have already been offered for 10,000 Belgians, and the committee is arranging to send refugees direct from Folkestone to Birmingham, Liverpool and other cities, where refugees await them, and the people of all classes are eager to make them comfortable.

Confirmation Received of Russian Victory

New York, Sept. 11.—A London cable to The World says: "The great battle in the Lublin district of Russian Poland has ended in complete victory for Russian armies and the Austrian armies are thoroughly routed," says a Petrograd correspondent of The London Chronicle. This dispatch is interpreted in London as confirmation of yesterday's news of the Russian victory over the hemmed-in Austria army north of Lemberg.

THE W. E. LORD COMPANY, LIMITED

The Barbarity of German Troops

SINS AGAINST CIVILIZATION

(By H. Hamilton Fyle, in the Daily Mail, London.)

In war times all stories told by one side (even if it be our own side) against the other must be read and listened to with caution. When people are excited they believe easily what they wish to believe. They even suffer from delusions, and give detailed accounts of events which they persuade themselves they saw but which really never happened.

Therefore I have been sceptical about the tales of horror which appear in the French newspapers accusing the Germans of murder and brutality. I have to think that any soldiers could be so devilish as to kill unarmed civilians in blind rage, or any officers so wicked as to permit it. I should infinitely prefer to be able to say, 'I am convinced these are exaggerations. Do not put any faith in them.'

Unfortunately there is no room for doubt any longer that the Germans have been making war in a manner which is very far indeed from being civilized. To call it 'savage' or 'barbarous' would be doing a monstrous injustice even to uncivilized races. There is only one word, I have used already. Do not think that I am applying it to all the German soldiers or even to most of them. But that a large number have not acted like men, but like devils is beyond dispute. And the French War Office declares that letters found on dead and captured Germans prove beyond doubt that they were deliberate, to have been ordered by officers as high in rank as colonels and majors, and to be part of a general plan.

Take the case of the village of Badonville, in one of the French frontier departments. Ghastly rumors of what happened here when the Germans captured it have been floating about for days. From an official report by the prefect of the department, and from the story told by a Red Cross war nurse, we have learnt the truth.

According to the nurse, one of the Emperor's sons was there and made a speech to the troops. 'The French are savages,' he said. 'Strike hard and make examples.' The troops needed no further exhortation. They set about killing and burning with out delay. To begin with, they had bombarded an unfortified village, an outrage which civilized warfare forbids. When they entered the village they found the inhabitants crowded into the cellars. They fired into the windows, they fired down into the hiding places of the terrified folk. Then they pulled out those who were left alive and set them up against a wall, where they amused themselves by pointing their rifles at them, firing women and children with wild terror.

'Eleven persons assassinated,' says the official report. One was the wife of the mayor, another a poor woman with a child in her arms. All were innocent of any offence, even against the laws of warfare. The suffered in great number the pains of death themselves. There was a thrilling charge of French cavalry from a mile away. So violent was the shock that the Germans were utterly broken.

Another terrible accusation brought against the Germans is that of killing the wounded. Again, one would like to dismiss it as a vulgar rumor. But it rests upon appalling solid testimony. Names are given by a committee charged with inquiring into any lapses from the civilized code of war. A Belgian newspaper was even told by an officer taken prisoner that the Germans wanted no prisoners. That cannot certainly be taken as expressing the general view of the German army, but there are many who have acted upon it. A French non-commissioned officer wrote to his parents in Flanders that a wounded officer of chasseurs had been 'finished off' on the battlefield, and that this was decided by the murderer to be 'according to orders.'

Such sins against humanity are bound to meet with awful retribution. So, too, will the widespread evil of property rights remain in the Kansas liquor traffic. The brewery has been a crumbling ruin for twenty years. The wholesale liquor house has vanished.

'The store owner who rented to the saloon long since found another tenant. The craving for the business stimulation of the saloon and the wide open town is unknown to this new generation. The financial disease of the saloon, with its waste and folly and crime, has been cured. Kansas, and the body of the state knows its pangs and tortures no more. The rising generation of the state and of the land of the new century has risen. I am in my middle forties. I was born and grew up in Kansas.

As a little boy in El Dorado I remember Jim Riley's saloon. I used to hunt bottles back of it and sell them at the drug store—their use for marbles. I used to find long corks for my fishing line in the alley back of Jim Riley's saloon. Also I remember there was so much broken glass there that it was dangerous to go barefooted in the alley, and that there were other dangers—notably running plumb lines from the drunken man, either lying in a stupor by the side of the house or staggering aimlessly about the alley seeking trouble. We boys also knew there were rats in the saloon, and that across the alley there was a house, with drawn shutters, which when we were out at night, we could see with inquiry if we could run fast enough to escape being caught; but that was thirty-five years ago.

'The time I was twelve until today I have never lived in a Kansas town where there was an open saloon. In Emporia there are grandpapas who have no recollection of the saloon except when they have seen it casually, as they have seen a giraffe or an elephant. The saloon has been no part of the life of that town, even sporadically, for thirty-five years. Young people in their middle twenties know nothing of the whiskey drug store except what they are told, as they know of the Civil War and the grasshopper year of 1873 and the great drought of 1880.

'If my boy, aged fourteen, has ever seen a drunken man, it was outside of Kansas. He is as familiar with epilepsy or pellagra or elephantiasis as he is with the actual workings of the saloon on the social system; yet, because the ill effects of the alcohol on the human body are taught in the schools, he is capable of a remarkable about what whiskey would do for a man that would turn to stone through terror the old horrible example of the seventeenth-century boy is afraid of whiskey. So are all the children of Kansas.

'If the state government should pass a law deploring the introduction of the open saloon by imperial decree, the Kansas people of the generation now on earth would not patronize it. Not only have they been educated out of liking the taste of whiskey and the habit of drinking it, but they have been taught to fear it. This does not mean that every man, woman and child in Kansas is a teetotaler; thousands of people drink, and there are drunkards in the state, though precious few of them. Liquor is shipped into the state by those who desire to use it, and some old-fashioned women put brandy in their mince pies and sherry in their sauces.'

The town's 'according to a refugee, looked like a cemetery in which there had been an earthquake. The streets were torn up and full of wreckage.

The German soldiers sat playing cards and smoking and drinking. They had forced the townspeople to minister to their needs. An order, too, was issued that every Belgian should keep his door open day and night so that the conquerors should not be stayed if they desired to enter anywhere. Remember that the people of Liege had, most of them, their wives and families in the town, and consider what such an order means.

Pure blood is the result of perfect health and harmony of stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

"Fruit-a-tives," by their wonderful action on all these organs, keeps the whole system as clean as Nature intended our bodies to be clean.

Good effects followed the complete closing of all saloons in Auckland and Wellington at the time of the general strike in the fall of 1913, when there was almost a death struggle with the forces of disorder and revolution. The hotelkeepers kept their bars closed for several weeks more strictly than they had ever done before, even during Sunday and other prohibited times. The hotelkeepers believed that the people would dislike the inconvenience of having the bars closed so much that they would be all the more anxious to have them left uninterfered with after the general strike was over. As a matter of fact, however the result was quite different, and the number of arrests for drunkenness and various crimes decreased in such a startling manner that the arguments were all in favor of keeping the bars closed. Then, too, a number of men, commonly known as "lopers," declared that they had never felt so well in their lives as during the time the saloons were closed, and declared themselves converts of the prohibition idea.

BRITISH FLEET ACTIVE

Whole German Line Forced to Retreat—Right Wing Driven Over Marne—Kaiser's Fleet May Make Desperate Effort to Win Mastery of Sea.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The London correspondent of the Herald writes:

"Following the victorious offensive movement of the allied French and British forces on land, which is forcing the whole German line to retreat, driving the German right wing far over the Marne, the British fleet has made a complete sweep of the North Sea and into the Bight of Helligoland in efforts to force the German fleet, which has been in hiding, to come out and fight. The admiralty reports say not a German warship was seen."

"I am informed, however, that before many hours the Germans stung by their unexpected weapon, will under direct orders from the Kaiser make a desperate effort to win mastery of the sea."

"And I can tell you every British sailor, from Admiral Sir John Jellicoe down, is filled with the lust of battle and is waiting for the fateful hour."

"As this despatch is filed there is a report that the German centre is crumbling under the terrific assault of the French. As England cheers this good news of the war on land it awaits with confidence the news of the result of a fight in the air with a Zeppelin fleet that is said to be on its way to London."

"England, too, has supreme confidence in the outcome of the impending battle at sea."

"This supreme confidence seems justified by the dramatic news from Ostend that the Belgian army is assuming a triumphant offensive and with a battle cry of 'Revenge' is driving the Germans back on isolated Louvain."

"It begins to look as if Lord Curzon would have his wish, expressed in a speech last night, in which he said, after recounting many incidents of German barbarity:

"I venture to hope our Indian troops, who would not exchange the beneficent government of England for the iron rule and the jack boot, will be in at the death, and will before long be seen in the gardens of Potsdam."

Stragglers Fight Well

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Rouen has great hopes that many of the British number of wounded in Sir John French's list of casualty will turn up again. He has every ground for expecting, he says, to see 4,000 or more of those men soon back in the firing line.

"For the last two days," he says, "I have been informed, while on a journey towards Paris that the 11th Hussars no longer exist, yet it is certain that half of their 700 will soon appear."

"At nightfall on Sept. 2 the 11th Hussars, exhausted after four days' fighting, slacked near Compiègne. They had experienced all too early in the day, when taking fifty Uhlans prisoners. Through this they had expected to get some remounts, but the Germans were worse off than they."

The 11th were to have a night's rest, screened by 10,000 fresh troops, but at 5 o'clock in the morning, without warning shells burst over them and their horses stampeded, but to assert that the regiment was annihilated is to stretch the imagination. The same applies to the Dorset regiment."

"Meanwhile many hundred stragglers are giving good accounts of themselves. At Chantilly, sixty of them, of all regiments, laid a quick firing trap for a patrol of Germans. The enemy was allowed to pass one man concealed in a hedge and to ride on to the muzzles of two others ahead. They were caught between the two fires and the British mowed them down. The survivors were taken prisoners."

The correspondent quotes other incidents to prove stragglers are a force to be reckoned with.

A FEW MORE DAYS WILL PRODUCE DECISIVE VICTORY FOR ALLIES

Military Expert on Paris Paper Believes That Expected Blow, "Entirely Changing Aspect of War," Is Near at Hand

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The Liberte makes the following comments on the latest military communiqué:

"The consequences of the retreat of the enemy's right wing will soon be evident, beginning with the obligation of General Von Kluck to renounce his daring advance on Paris with its accompanying intimidation. The 'Attaque Brusque' on the capital was a dream, realization of which becomes more and more improbable."

"In the most gigantic battle of history, the result cannot be achieved everywhere at the same time; but events up to the present justify the hope that a few more days will produce our decisive victory, entirely changing the aspect of the war."

Despite the retreat of the Germans for nearly fifty miles north-east, it is still impossible to reach the districts they recently occupied not far north of Paris.

How to Win Battles

More Victories are won by siege tactics than by assaults

Apply this to business and see what it means: it means that continuous and steady advertising is more resultful than campaigns that come and go, come and go with long intervals in between.

For an advertiser with goods to sell to suspend his selling effort now is to make conditions worse for himself, and is no sign of that courage which is supposed to possess every Canadian heart in these war times.

Win and hold your position in business by steadfastness of attack

THE BILL

For an examination and the right kind of glasses now will not count up nearly so much as the bill for shattered nerves and expensive treatment later, all caused by neglect of your eye troubles. Better be wise in time and let us prescribe for your trouble now. It will more than pay in comfort and money saved in the long run.

At the close of the regular meeting Mr. Goodey, on behalf of the Church, B.Y.P.U. and Choir, presented Miss Mann with a small token of appreciation. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social time.

Martin Nordegg called on the editor of this paper, Monday, and stated there was no truth in the absurd story published last week in the press about a man named Johann Madge, a wealthy German, selling stock of the Brazee coal field.

Mr. Nordegg says no such person owned any stock in the mines, and no stock has been sold that he was aware of. The mines are kept busy and will not, in all probability, slacken to any extent, although construction work has for the time being been suspended.

She also left four potatoes that would be prize winners in any fair in Alberta. Mrs. Jones has made a great success of cucumbers and corn this year also.

A junior city official loaned two other officials his horse and rig on Labor Day to go duck shooting. They arrived back at night with a moderate bag of game, and one of them had a sudden attack of rheumatism, and persuaded the owner of the rig to drive him home. Strange to say, the rheumatism disappeared that night as quickly as it came.

Another youth who volunteered as bugler in Red Deer, but was not among the accepted, jumped the train for the troops left, and we understand has been accepted at Valcartier.

these matters, and it is on the education of the children that this great Empire must rely for her future glory—the children of today are the men and women of tomorrow. We Canadians are as independent as any nation can wish to be, and we are entitled to claim as our own all the deeds of glory of the Empire of which we are a very part; they are ours; the power of the British Empire, its naval and military strength are at our backs in any national emergency. Think of what this means to ourselves, to our children, to our children's children. And where would we be today, but for our efficient army—that navy shrouded in darkness in the North Sea—yet keeping constant vigil that millions in Great Britain may sleep in peace.

A member of the British Empire—no finer title could be worn. Our Empire stands for all that is best in mankind. Where our flag is unfurled every man may worship as his heart dictates—every slave looks for freedom, every prisoner for justice—a country generous to her conquered foes. So a citizen of Canada is a citizen of the world-wide British Empire, possessing the most splendid heritage, and heir to the most glorious traditions. Surely this citizenship should be safeguarded, treasured and developed by every feasible and legitimate means, and in our Western Canada, where the population is gathered from so many foreign countries, it behooves us to see that the children are taught the high ideals of true British citizenship.

Mrs. Spence here gave Webster's definition of a patriot as "One who loves his country and its people, supports and defends it and its interests," also "A person devoted to the welfare of his country." Patriotism has been placed next to one's religion. The love of country has been rooted deep in the hearts of our heroes, naval, military and civic.

The speaker then gave effectively recited the following from Sir Walter Scott: "Breathe there a man with soul so free, Who never to himself hath said: This is my own, my native land. Whose heart has no other within him, As home his footsteps he hath turned, From wandering on a foreign strand? If such there breathe, go mark him well! For him no minstrel raptures swell; High though his titles, proud his name, Boundless his wealth as wish can claim, Despite their titles, power and pelf, The wreath comes all in all in self, Living shall forfeit fair renown, And doubly dying shall go down To the vile dust from whence he sprung. Unwept, unhonored and unsung."

The Daughters of the Empire are trying to present a united Dominion and make a loyal attachment to the throne and person of the King, an attachment which finds its ordinary expression in obedience to the laws of the land, in which the authority of the King is vested for the time being, to cultivate a just pride in the Empire, a keen interest in its developments and changes, those large ennobling feelings of imperialism, for imperial unity is the mainspring of the work of the Daughters of the Empire; to see that the Union Jack is hoisted above all foreign flags in the Dominion that flag which tells so full, so simple and so soul-stirring of battles fought, of battles won by land and sea—the flag that is always unfurled for a good cause and for duty only.

"It's only a small bit of bunting, It's only an old tattered rag. Yet thousands have died for its story, And shed their best blood for that flag."

Let us remember how Great Britain obtained her supremacy by sea and land, by the power behind the armies, rather than the armies themselves. No army however great, no navy however well equipped, can command success unless animated by a patriotic spirit, a love undying and heroic for the honor of the cause and country which it is called to defend.

Great Britain has won great battles, not because she had great armies, but because she had great citizens, and these men, when their rights were threatened or attacked, became the soldiers who fought her battles and beat back her enemies. Great Britain is engaged in the present war because she could not have stayed out and kept her word. This war—the world tragedy—the words of Sir Rider Haggard, the noted author: "Do we realize the state in which the Empire stands today? Do we realize the Canada understand that the Empire is at grips for life and death? Britain must conquer or fall forever. We have been giving Britain help, but do we understand that we are Britain? Do we understand that if Britain falls, Germany and her allies become the masters of the world, and that in three or four years there will be no British Empire? Every woman of us must play her part. The chance will come to each one of us for duty, service and sacrifice."

Mrs. Spence then told of work that could be undertaken by Daughters of the Empire, and also explained the Red Cross work. In conclusion the speaker inspired her audience by her effective reading of the revised poem "The Absent-minded Beggar," by Rudyard Kipling.

Lanterns and Lantern Globes

Lanterns and Lantern Globes are very important goods in the eyes of many of our customers now. In the former we have two especially good lines to offer in the Cold Blasts, under No. 3 and No. 4. The No. 3 is one with a short Globe and the No. 4 takes the usual length. They both sell for the same price—$1.00—and are well worth what we are asking for them.

In Globes this year we have bought two lines, one of which, "Wright's Rubber Crystal" is already in stock. The other line is now en route from Pennsylvania, but should be in within the next week. We confidently commend these lines to you, as they are immensely superior to the ordinary ones such as are so frequently found in stock.

HANDLED AXES

Would you like a good one for about the woodshed—one that won't break? We have a splendid one, with a very decent handle which we are selling for $1.00. We have a few in stock today, but are expecting another ten dozen before the end of the week.
